

Dear Fellow IANA Members,

You may recall the merger that took place earlier this year between American Intermodal Management (AIM) and Flexi-Van Leasing, Inc. The combination of organizations has resulted in a strong nationwide infrastructure and customer base, offering a new wide range of premium equipment and products to the marketplace.

Now integrated as one organization under the FlexiVan name, we're based in Scottsdale, Arizona and manage a fleet of over 120,000 chassis with a network of depots and service centers in key intermodal markets. We pride ourselves on the fact we have more than 20,000 premium units equipped with GPS powered by AIM360, FlexiVan's propriety platform which offers technology-driven solutions that helps shorten supply chains and lower costs.

Our loyal customer base continues to include motor carriers, ocean carriers, beneficial cargo owners, logistics providers, railroads and marine terminal operators. Meanwhile our lineup of chassis leasing options range from managed fleets and chassis pool user agreements, to daily, short and long-term contracts.

The company's new business model combines integrity, proactive-disciplined management processes, high quality assets, innovative technology application, and a passion for excellence to achieve maximum value creation for customers.
